

Privacy Policy

New Northwest Broadcasters (NNB) and its family of stations respect your privacy. This Privacy Statement outlines the information NNB will collect and how that information will be used. This Statement will also instruct you on what to do if you do not want your personal information collected.

Information Collection

Browsing this or any NNB radio station site is done anonymously. NNB will not collect your name, address, telephone number, or e-mail address unless you provide it voluntarily. However, we may attempt to collect such information if we believe your use of this website violates any laws. If you do not want this information collected, please do not submit it to us.

When you do provide us with personal information, we may use that information in the following ways, unless otherwise stated: we may store and process that information to better understand your needs and how we can improve our services. We may also use that information to contact you. However, we will not provide that information to third parties.

Usage by Children

Consistent with the children's Online Privacy Protection Act, NNB does not collect, use or disclose personal information of children under the age of 13. NNB encourages parents and guardians to be aware of their children's online activity.

Cookies

When you view our website, we may store some information on your computer. This information will be in the form of a "Cookie" or similar file. Cookies allow us to tailor our website to better match your interests and preferences. With most Internet Browsers, you can erase Cookies from your computer hard drive, block all Cookies, or receive a warning before a Cookie is stored. Please refer to your Browser instructions or help screen to learn more about these functions.

Who to Contact

If you have submitted personal information through this website and would like that information deleted from our records, please contact us at: privacy@nnbradio.com. We will use reasonable efforts to delete your information from our existing files.